

South Branch Carp River At Campsite

Fish Species

Brook Trout; Brown Trout; Steelhead

Species Description

Although brown trout and steelhead are stocked in the Carp River, the South Branch Carp River is primarily a wild brook trout stream.

Geographic Coordinates

Lat:46.07406 / Long:-84.96435

Noteworthy

This site is on the South Branch Carp River just upstream from the confluence with the main Carp River. The South Branch is colder than the mainstem, and supports a good brook trout population. There is also a large campsite/parking area here.

Fishing Regulations

This is a Type 1 Trout Stream. For more information, please refer to the Inland Trout & Salmon Regulations found in the current Michigan Fishing Guide.

Directions to Site

Take M-123 north from Moran. Take Burm Road to the west, then turn north on U.S. Forest Service 3458 (aka Nogi A Road). Travel just over a mile, then turn west on U.S. Forest Service 3502 (aka Goudreau Trail). Campsite/parking area is on north side of road.

Regional Visitor Information (URL)

stignace.com