MISC. COMMENTS

house is a designated historical structure that isn't really designed to be used for anything other than residential space. 2nd story has one bedroom, one open space and a 1/2 bath (sink and stool). Ceiling is only 6' high! Main floor has a living room with fireplace, a dining room, small kitchen, one small bedroom, one full bath (sink, stool and bathtub/shower) and one small room that the upstairs staircase begins from. The basement is a small area that is divided into 3 "rooms" by a large brick chimney and the furnace. This structure will require a lot of investment to make it suitable for living again.
